Silvia Loreti				00:00 AM	00:00 AM	10/09/2026	10/11/2026

This one credit on-site course based in Nice examines on the work of Picasso, Matisse and Chagall in the south of France. The course examines the link between the artists and the influence of the environment of the Cote d'Azur. This course is run over a two-day weekend excursion with an introductory lecture before and a wrap-up class after.

1 credit hour. Pre- or co-requisites: A 100-level introductory Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students arrange their own transportation to and accommodation in Nice. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 210	3.00	VAN GOGH TO WARHOL
Tanja Lelgemann-Gregoretti		Mon Wed		05:15 PM	06:40 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course examines the main tendencies in modern art, from the late nineteenth to the late twentieth century. Students will learn about particular movements and their major protagonists, including Impressionism, Post/Neo Impressionism, Fauvism, Expressionism, Cubism, Futurism, Dada, Surrealism, Suprematism, De Stijl, Constructivism, Abstract Expressionism, Pop Art, Minimalism, and Conceptualism.

Please note that this is a reading-intensive course. This course may involve on-site classes and Friday/weekend fieldtrips in Rome and Italy. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: AH 103 or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 211	3.00	HISTORY OF PHOTOGRAPHY
Manuela Pacella		Mon Wed		03:40 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course explores the multiple aspects of the art photograph (broadly defined), from its prehistory to the present. Through readings, images and original examples, photography will be analyzed from its scientific and technical processes to its social, cultural and artistic values. The changing cultural perspective of the photograph will be analyzed by placing the history of photography within larger social and scientific contexts from the experiments with the camera obscura by Renaissance artists through the development of printmaking and photolithography. The influence of photography upon other artistic forms will also be explored.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Art History course or permission of the instructor.

AH 212	3.00	CONTEMPORARY ART IN THE GLOBAL VILLAGE
Carlotta Vacchelli		Tue Thu		05:15 PM	06:40 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course is an investigation into contemporary art world-wide. The course begins by examining the art of the 1980's as providing the backdrop to contemporary trends. It then moves on to analyze art in a series of themes that have been widespread in artistic practice – time, place, identity, the body etc. The scope of the course is overtly multicultural comparing and contrasting ethnic approaches. The course finishes with the students organizing their own virtual exhibition of contemporary art.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. This course may include a field trip to the Biennale in Venice.

AH 213	3.00	THE ARCHITECTURE OF ROME						On site
Fabio Barilari		Thu		09:00 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

The course surveys the architecture of Rome on-site and in the classroom. Particular focus is placed on the relationship between social and cultural activity, lifestyle patterns, and the meaning of architecture and urban spaces. The historical context of Rome (and other sites in Italy) will be the physical and material setting of the course. The course material will run from ancient Roman to contemporary examples of architecture and piazza designs as physical representations of the Italian "way of being in the world."

3 credits. Pre-requisites: A 100-level AH or ARC course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 261	1.00	THE LURE OF FLORENCE						1-credit Field Trip
. TBA				00:00 AM	00:00 AM	11/20/2026	11/22/2026

The Lure of Florence introduces students to the great art collections of Florence at the Uffizi Galleries and the Pitti Palace. This one-credit class will explore the tradition of collecting art and antique sculpture when the Medici were the ruling dynasty in the city of Florence. Over the course of a weekend, after an initial introduction in class, students will visit the city of Florence and the Uffizi Gallery, as well as key monuments commemorating the city's ruling elite. The aim of the course will be to demonstrate knowledge of collecting practices in the formation of the early modern "collection." Students will have the opportunity to develop a range of topics such as display, art patronage and object-based thematic discussion.

1 credit. Pre-requisites: A 100-level introductory Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students arrange their own transportation to and accommodation in Florence. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

AH 308	3.00	BEFORE THE RENAISSANCE						On site
Manuela Annibali		Tue		09:00 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course explores the artistic culture of the Middle Ages up to the dawn of the Renaissance. The course is intended as a detailed study of the art of this millennium, with a specific emphasis on Rome, taking advantage of the city's richness of medieval monuments and works of art: mosaics and paintings, sculptures and architecture. The course aims to analyze the similarities and differences between the Roman artistic production and the art of the rest of Europe, the Byzantine East and other cultural contexts, for example the Islamic world, as well as within the larger framework of medieval culture and history. The course includes a class excursion to Assisi.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Art History course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees. An additional fee may be collected in the event of a required excursion.

AH 316	3.00	MUSEOLOGY AND CURATORSHIP
Manuela Pacella		Mon Wed		05:15 PM	06:40 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

Curatorship examines the principles and practices of the modern museum, nowadays considered a site of social interaction more than an historical treasure palace. Students will examine the role of the curator in relationship to a museum's mission, and how technology is changing the way in which museums fulfill their curatorial responsibilities. The relationship between curator and collector and the procedures for realizing a successful exhibition will be studied. Case studies of best curatorial practices internationally, and on-site visits to private and public art collections, archaeological sites and museums, will critique ideas about curatorial roles and exhibitions.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: An introductory-level Art History or Management course or permission of the instructor. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

Silvia Loreti		Tue Thu		02:05 PM	03:30 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course focuses on the greatest master of modern art, Pablo Picasso. However, it considers his revolutionary impact on the development of art in relation to socio-cultural issues that are central to today's theory and practice, such as semiotics, agency, relational aesthetics, institutional critique and identity politics. These theoretical frameworks will be analyzed through examples drawn from Picasso's work in its historical context and the practice of global contemporary artists whose work reflects, both directly and indirectly, Picasso's oeuvre.

Carol Taddeo		Tue		09:00 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This introductory course surveys the history of conservation and restoration, and addresses current ethical dilemmas faced by curators, art historians, scientists, and archaeologists. Students will debate the various issues involved in the care of cultural heritage with reference to professional organizations, special interest groups, cultural identity and economic development. Present and past use of an artifact, whether as a functional object, as a cultural symbol, as an historical record, or as a domestic space, requires that the conservator understand both the tangible and intangible nature of object. Particular reference will be made to the art and archaeology of Rome.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A 100-level Art History or Archaeology course or permission of the instructor.

This course examines the theoretical foundations which underpin all archaeological interpretation. We will examine how theory has changed the interpretation of human society over time, relating this both to developments in methodology (e.g. the introduction of scientific archaeology) and changes in contemporary society (e.g. post-colonial archaeology). The course will be organized in a broadly historiographical format analyzing prevailing theoretical concerns in different time periods in both the United States and Europe. Classes will follow a seminar format and students will be expected to come to class prepared to participate fully in the discussion.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: 200 level ARC or Ancient History course, or permission of the instructor.

This course explores the management of archaeological sites and artefacts. It examines how archaeology developed from being a leisure pastime to becoming a scientific endeavor and lately an important part of the local economy. Contemporary archaeology has to balance scientific goals with the cultural and social objectives of local communities. The course analyzes the challenges inherent in managing the archaeological heritage including the difficulties of private-public partnerships, the statutory regulations and the imperative to manage heritage tourism sustainably and engage the local community.

The research skills course will usually be taken in the penultimate semester to support academic and career success with a degree in Archaeology and Classics. The course will develop skills in three areas: career preparedness, the integration and comparison of primary sources and data, and finally the preparation of a large, cohesive research project in Archaeology and Classics. The overall goal of the course is to provide students with a holistic understanding of the range of approaches to the disciplines of Archaeology and Classics, and their future prospects both within the academic discipline and outside of it. Students completing the course will have prepared a career resume, an academic CV, an academic portfolio of AUR writing, and a research proposal, methodology, and bibliography for an (optional) Capstone Thesis to be written in the following semester.

3 credits. Pre-requisites: AUR Degree seeking students with Senior standing in Archaeology and Classics.

Mythology is the study of the legends about the origins and history of a people, their deities, ancestors and heroes. The stories of the gods and legendary heroes of the Greco-Roman tradition have provided the fountainhead for literature and the arts in the service of religious and political imagery down to the present. While the emphasis will be primarily literary, with extensive readings of such writers as Homer and Vergil (noting, in passing, the influence upon later literature). The visual depiction of these myths will also be studied. A field trip to a museum in Rome may be required.

3 credit hours.

MGT 302 3.00 DOING BUSINESS IN ITALY

Claudia Maria Del Papa Mon Wed 03:40 PM 05:05 PM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

Italian businesses are famous worldwide for their innovative approach to the fields that represent the country's comparative advantage: food, fashion and design. In this course, students will gain direct experience with each one of the leading business sectors of Italy and "take to the road" to explore Italian business approaches first-hand. Students will meet with the entrepreneurs involved in developing the innovative concepts, dealing with the unique challenges and designing the creative solutions that have allowed these businesses to thrive – and survive even in the current recession, the worst economic crisis of the post-WWII period. Students will learn about the foundations of what has become known as "the Italian miracle" and the ways in which Il Bel Paese has been able to weather even the most difficult of times with a flexible approach to entrepreneurship.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: MGT 201 or MKT 200 and ACC 201. Fee charged for required field trip.

Anna Sasso		Tue Thu		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

The travel and tourism industry is one of the largest and most dynamic industries in today's global economy and is composed of five parts: a) lodgings (hotels, motels, camps, cruise ships), b) transportation services (ships, airplanes, trains), c) food and beverage operations (restaurants, bars, taverns, catering), d) retail stores (gifts, souvenir, arts/crafts shops) and e) activities (recreation, educational trips, business, festivals, sport events). We will explore these areas and the challenges facing industry actors as they strive to create distinctive experiences for increasingly demanding and jaded consumers. In this course, students will apply concepts and principles learned in their introductory marketing course, to the tourism, travel and hospitality sectors. They will expand the 4 Ps to the 8 Ps of Service Marketing, explore those tools as applied to organizations, both for profit and non-profit, in tourism-related businesses, and develop marketing strategies for specific destinations.

aim of this course is to provide an introductory yet wide-ranging account over the emergence and development of different media throughout History, from Gutenberg's printing press to the commercialization of social media. Based on a strong multidisciplinary outlook and a rough chronological perspective, the course explores the relationship between the adoption of technological innovations in the media sphere and social, cultural, economic and political change. The goal is to let students understand how the media not only contribute to historical development, but also influence human experience. Finally, in order to provide students with a global understanding of the topic, rather than concentrating on the West, the course includes case studies about Africa, India, and China.

COM 105	3.00	COMMUNICATION AND SOCIETY
Lucia Tralli		Tue Thu		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course explores the relationship between communications, media, society, and culture. Within historical and contemporary contexts, the subject addresses how audiences and participants negotiate media in their lives. The course focuses on different media forms, from newspapers to television, and from books to mobile technology. Topics covered include the effects of media on audiences; issues of race and gender in the media; media ownership and regulation; the impact of technological development and institutional pressures on media uses, content, and patterns of communication. Ultimately the course assesses ethical and legal issues which media users and practitioners may face.

3 credit hours.

COM 312 3.00 DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS STRATEGY

Kristen Palana Mon Wed 03:40 PM 05:05 PM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

course provides students with a basic understanding of the significance of digital communications and their impact on business and marketing. The course aims at exploring the marketing methodologies for digital communications strategies for organizations and online or offline products alike. It focuses on communication practices with digital marketing prospects and customers, and also on the internal processes necessary in order to enact strategic decisions.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ECO 208 or MKT 200 or permission of instructor.

COM 318 3.00 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IN THEDIGITAL AGE

. TBA Mon Wed 09:00 AM 10:25 AM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

> This course provides an in-depth examination of the fundamental principles of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and their evolving significance in digital media and communication. By surveying copyright, trademarks, patents, industrial designs, geographical indications, and trade secrets, students will critically assess the legal frameworks, economic impact, and social implications of IPR in global contexts. Through case studies and interactive discussions, participants will evaluate landmark legal decisions, explore emergent regulations, and investigate the challenges posed by artificial intelligence and digital innovation. The course equips students with the theoretical foundations and practical strategies necessary to safeguard creative assets and navigate the complexities of IPR in an increasingly interconnected world.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 202, Junior standing or permission of the instructor.

COM 323 3.00 SPORTSWRITING

ENG 320	3.00	MODERNISM AND THE MAKING OF THE NEW
Lisa Colletta		Tue Thu		03:40 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

Modernism was an international movement that drew from influences throughout Europe in its desire to break with the past and create a new way of expressing experience--to "Make it New"--to use Ezra Pound's famous phrase. This course will examine the characteristics that define the "Modern" in literature, but we will also examine how the modernist aesthetic influenced other cultural and artistic expression in the early decades of the twentieth century. In what ways does Modernism break with the past and what does the idea of "The Modern" do artistically and culturally? In addition to paying close attention to modernist writers' textual practices, we will also consider the cultural politics at work in international modernist texts and contexts.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 102.

ENG 323	3.00	POST-COLONIAL LITERATURE IN ENGLISH
Tehezeeb Moitra		Tue Thu		12:30 PM	01:55 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

As the British Empire began its decline in the wake of World War II, an outpouring of literature emerged from its former colonies. As Indian-born British novelist Salman Rushdie pointed out, the empire was writing back "with a vengeance." In this course we will read and analyze contemporary works by writers from Africa, The Caribbeans, India, and Britain. In addition, this course will examine how these authors negotiate the legacies of empire, ongoing processes of de-colonization, and evolving forms of neo-colonialism. We will also look at pivotal post-colonial theoretical texts that investigate issues of identity, nationalism, language, diaspora, race, gender, and hybridity.

A good film adaptation starts with an intimacy with the source material and an understanding of how to bring it to life as a screenplay for a visual medium. This course will focus on studying several successful films adapted from literary sources with the goal of providing students with a blueprint for writing their own adapted screenplay as the final project. The core of the course will be an examination of the principles and issues specific to adapting a range of types of literary works, including the short story, novella, novel, play, as well as biographical non-fiction. We will examine theories and principles of narrative, character, setting, theme and imagery in both literary and cinematic works, and the ways in which written works can be translated into visual stories for the screen. Students will also learn principles of film analysis that will equip them with a greater knowledge of the ways in which stories create meaning in a visual medium. Finally, students will gain a greater competency in the skills necessary to create compelling and well-executed screenplays that exhibit clear and engaging plotlines, scenes, characters, themes and action. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: FLM 214 or a 200-level ENG course.

IDS 498	2.00	INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES CAPSTONEEXPERIENCE 1: SEMINAR

Part 1 of the Capstone Experience prepares students for the culminating work of the major, the senior project. This project typically takes the form of a thesis, but other formats may be considered with approval of the instructor, provided the student has appropriate prerequisite coursework or experience. In this seminar students will review their own portfolios to assess their progress and strengths; evaluate the resources and methodologies needed to execute their projects; analyze examples of advanced scholarly and/or creative work; and prepare a project proposal supported by an annotated bibliography or similar preparatory assignment.

2 credits. Pre-requisites: AUR Degree seeking students with Senior standing in Interdisciplinary Studies.

IDS 499	2.00	INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES CAPSTONEEXPERIENCE 2: PROJECT

Part 2 of the Interdisciplinary Studies Capstone Experience consists of supervised independent work on the senior project. The project is the culminating work of the major, in which students demonstrate their command of the knowledge and skills gained in on-site courses and seminars by conducting their own research on an Interdisciplinary Studies topic of their own choosing. Working closely with a faculty advisor, students find and assess the evidence for a particular issue or position, and develop their own point of view on it. The final product is typically in the form of a thesis, a sustained and significant piece of writing that prepares majors for graduate school or for employment requiring high-level verbal and analytical ability, but may take another format with prior approval during the Capstone Seminar.

2 credits. Pre-requisites: IDS 498; AUR Degree seeking students with Senior standing in Interdisciplinary Studies.

ANT 100	3.00	INTRODUCTION TO ANTHROPOLOGY
Francesca Conti		Tue Thu		02:05 PM	03:30 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course introduces a series of classical and recent topics in social and cultural anthropology: language, economy, kinship, religion, politics, myth, symbolism, gender, social stratification, ethnicity and nationalism, globalization. Showing how anthropologists have approached these topics through cultural comparison, theoretical discussions will be combined with ethnographic examples taken from the variety of world cultures. Providing a basic vocabulary to the discipline, the course will invite a systematic questioning of taken-for-granted assumptions concerning human beings and their behavior. The course fulfils information technology and oral presentation requirements.

ANT 300	3.00	THE MEDITERRANEAN WORLD
Catherine Sophie Cornet		Mon Wed		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course addresses recent cultural, social and political changes in the Mediterranean area, but from a historical perspective. The course will combine theoretical discussions with case studies from the three main regions of the Mediterranean area: the Middle East, North Africa, and Southern Europe. While stressing a comparative perspective, regional variations will be addressed throughout the course. The approach is multi-disciplinary, combining anthropology, sociology, history and political science. The first part of the course will address mainly cultural themes, while the second part of the course will address mainly political themes.

IA 100 3.00 INTRODUCTION TO INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS: HISTORY AND CONCEPTS

Irene Caratelli Mon Wed 10:35 AM 12:00 PM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

For many years, it was argued that IR was a branch of Political Science concerned with the 'international' rather than the 'domestic' sphere of political life. According to most descriptions, the ultimate raison d'être of IR was to explain why wars happened and how peace could be sustained over time. The main subjects were states, and the focus was on dynamics between states in an anarchic world. The modern study of IR incorporates, inter alia, many different actors, not just states (e.g. International Organizations, Non-Governmental Organizations, Multi-National Corporations, Social Movements, Civil Society); the study of the environment; the emergence of an international human rights regime; the reasons for state failure; the degree to which globalization as a phenomenon is altering the structure of international society; and, increasingly, the sources of disorder in an age of international terror; hegemony versus multipolarism. Students will be able to debate concepts like: balance of power, collective security, international legal arrangements, and globalization. This course is both an introduction to International Relations and a useful transmission belt to those going on to study IR after their first year. The course fulfills information technology and oral presentation requirements. 3 credit hours.

IA 201 3.00 GLOBAL POLITICS

Catherine Sophie Cornet Mon Wed 09:00 AM 10:25 AM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

The changes in world politics over the last 15-20 years have been both sudden and dramatic. This course provides the students with diverse conceptual frameworks for understanding the current transformation of global politics. How basic political science concepts (like state, power, political movements, governance) need to be readdressed in light of these changes will be discussed. The current stage of globalization will be explored by historical comparison with earlier periods of political integration and disintegration, going back to Antiquity. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Any introductory-level Political Science or International Affairs course.

IA 203 3.00 U.S. AND EUROPE SINCE 1945

Luca Ratti Tue Thu 05:15 PM 06:40 PM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

This course examines U.S. influence in the reconstruction of Europe after WWII, the Marshall Plan and the development of the idea of European integration, the U.S. as a world power with a permanent military presence in Europe, and the birth and evolution of NATO. Students will also analyze tension over decolonization in Suez, 'the Special Relationship' between the U.S. and Britain, tension with France and harmony with Germany, the end of the Cold War, the new EU and the new NATO. Evolution of Transatlantic relations after September 11 and during and after the second war Gulf War will also be examined. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Lower level POL, IA, HST or permission of the instructor.

IA 212	3.00	INTERNATIONAL LAW OF WAR AND PEACE
Antonio Marchesi		Mon Wed		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

International Law of War and Peace addresses the law of interstate relations focusing on three major areas relevant to students of international relations. First, War and peace (e.g. collective security, the law of armed conflict, disarmament); second, Crime and punishment (e.g. war crimes and other international crimes; international criminal justice; international judicial cooperation; State responsibility); and, finally, Law and diplomacy (e.g. settlement of disputes, both judicial and diplomatic; diplomatic relations; privileges and immunities). Analysis of these topics - through a practice-oriented and problem-solving approach - will be preceded by an introduction to some of the essential features of the international legal system, limited to what is strictly necessary for the purposes of an adequate understanding of the above-mentioned issues.
3 credit hours.

IA 301	3.00	COMPARATIVE FOREIGN POLICY
Andrea Thomas Dessi		Mon Wed		03:40 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

The course examines the complex interplay of multiple factors that influence foreign policy choices in different countries. It also looks at leaders' personality and their perceptions, domestic and international constraints of state actors and the balance of power in the international arena. To gain insight into how individuals ponder options and take decisions, how states engage with others and how the international system impacts on the interaction between states, three levels of analysis will be used: the individual, the state and the international system levels of analysis. This theoretical framework will then be applied to a collection of case studies allowing for a comparative analysis of countries' foreign policies.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science course or permission of the instructor.

IA 305	3.00	INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS OF EAST ASIA
Veronica Strina		Tue Thu		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course examines the nature of international relations in East Asia. Particular attention will be devoted to the positions occupied by Japan and China in the context of the Cold War, as well as to their interactions both with the other regional actors, the two Superpowers and Europe. The analysis of the factors which were generated during the phase of bipolarism will facilitate the identification of continuity and discontinuity lines in the light of globalization.
Topics will include: (1) the historical development of international relations in East Asia since the mid 19th century, (2) WWII and its legacy, (3) domestic institutions and foreign policy outcomes, (4) regional security issues, (5) regional economic relations, and (6) the implications of these issues for the United States.
3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 200.

IA 307	3.00	INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS
Antonio Marchesi		Mon Wed		09:00 AM	10:25 AM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

A growing number of international conventions impose human rights obligations on States parties. They also assign to the so-called treaty bodies, as well as to regional courts, the task of ensuring compliance with human rights standards. As of 2006, the UN Human Rights Council monitors respect for human rights by member States. Since the 1990s, the human rights regime has been enriched by its encounter with criminal justice while non-state actors, such as NGOs, play an increasingly relevant role. The course, through an illustration of the general framework as well as an analysis of selected issues, is aimed at understanding how human rights have become a part of the legal system of the international community.

IA 348	1.00	THE EU, BETWEEN CRISIS AND RENEWAL: BERLIN									1-credit Field Trip
Irene Caratelli				00:00 AM	00:00 AM	10/29/2026	11/01/2026

Through meetings with a variety of stakeholders in a chosen European Union (EU) capital, this 1 credit field trip will provide students with first-hand exposure to key debates on EU integration and reform processes, EU-US relations and efforts to enhance the EU's Strategic Autonomy in the economic, military and political domains. The course will examine internal and external EU policies and discourse from the perspective of EU institutions and certain Member State (MS) – e.g., Germany, France, Spain and Italy – taking stock of ongoing debates on new investments and reforms to the EU's institutional make-up and decision-making bodies and their impact on EU identity and positioning in the world. Further discussion will examine the future of the Transatlantic Alliance amidst increased competition with Russia and China as well as the United State's shifting priorities; first with the pivot to Asia, then with a more isolationist and critical approach to the EU and the broader UN system.

1 credit. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science or European history course or permission of the instructor. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-trip.

IA 360	3.00	SPECIAL TOPICS: MODEL UN
Andrea Thomas Dessi		Tue Thu		09:00 AM	10:25 AM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course is a practical exercise in critical thinking and analysis, public speaking, and intercultural negotiation and consensus building within the context of international politics and international organizations. Students will represent, support, and defend a selected country's national interests at the United Nations. Students will learn how and be trained to speak clearly and convincingly on selected policy areas, know and use the technical language of the UN. Skill building exercises in consensus building, negotiations and communications will complement the public speaking activities as will writing assignments on how to develop talking points, policy position papers and draft UN resolutions in order to master style, form and substance of typical diplomatic and UN documents. The students will exercise and develop learning in a close to real-world organizational setting that brings together actors from all over the world. Students will represent a specific country, as a member of the UN in a Model UN conference simulation, the dates of which will be communicated. The policy areas will relate to UN committee work and topics chosen by the organizers. Costs to participate at the Model UN conference will be covered by the student. This course may be taken more than once as long as the country represented and the committee topics are different.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: 200 level IA, POL, HST, social science or public speaking or permission of the instructor. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-study trip.

IA 401	3.00	CURRENT AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY
Giorgio Poti		Mon Wed		03:40 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course is an in-depth study of American foreign policy. The course will briefly survey the history of American Foreign Policy which will serve to approach current foreign policy issues. Which are the main issues in today's American foreign policy? What factors shape American foreign policy? How is American Foreign Policy carried out? How does American foreign policy work together with International Organizations (like the UN), military alliances (like NATO) and regional organizations (like the EU)? The students will be expected to carry out individual work analyzing American foreign policy in specific regions or countries around the world. There will be a strong focus on contemporary political events and how to understand and interpret these.

Catherine Sophie Cornet		Wed		02:05 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

Conflict is part of daily life: it can be destructive as well as constructive but it needs to be dealt with productively. Resolution is a collaborative process by which differences are handled and outcomes are jointly agreed by the interested parties. It is the transformation of the relationship and situation such that solutions are sustainable and self-correcting in the long term. This course will introduce the student to conflict, the cause, how it happens and why it occurs. Techniques and methods to approach, manage and resolve will be introduced, including good listening and communication skills. Various forms of intervention will be examined and applied: negotiation from a humanitarian perspective with armed groups, using selected case studies, will be examined and applied in depth.

Alice Ciulla		Mon Wed		02:05 PM	03:30 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course provides an in-depth look at the various political forces in Europe. The course involves a historical look at two important political movements of the twentieth century, fascism and communism, and will discuss how the European Union to a large extent developed as a reaction to overcome these movements. The course takes a fresh look at the political structures and the political culture of the major founding states of the European Community (France, Germany, Italy) and of those that emerged from the collapse of communism and decided to 'return to Europe'. In order to analyze the characteristics and the diversity of nation-states within a global and especially within a European context, the course will focus on the role played by the transnational party groups represented in the European Parliament as well.

POL 311 3.00 CONTEMPORARY AFRICAN POLITICS:IDEAS, STRUGGLES AND LEADERS

This course offers a comprehensive overview of key political events and ideas across the African continent, spanning from the anti-colonial struggle to the present. The course challenges Western-centric frameworks in political analysis by centering African experiences and amplifying African voices. Students will critically engage with both historical and contemporary perspectives, fostering a deeper and more inclusive understanding of African political history, thought and practice. Understanding the legacies of colonialism is fundamental to grasping the trajectory of contemporary African politics. These legacies continue to shape border disputes, ethnic violence, environmental and economic injustices, and state-society relations.

3 credits. Pre-requisites: IA 201.

POL 313 3.00 DEMOCRACY, POPULISM AND AUTHORITY

. TBA Tue Thu 03:40 PM 05:05 PM 08/31/2026 12/11/2026

This course offers an informative introduction to the complexities of government across space and time, highlighting regional trends on a global scale. This implies an analysis of: the purpose of governments; whether sovereignty is (or should be) accompanied with duties and responsibilities or not; the functions of political institutions; and the relevant actors in political processes in the global era. The meaning of complex and sometimes contested concepts such as democracy, democratization, populism and authoritarianism will be explored, and particular attention will be devoted to populist movements that challenge political establishments and consolidated democratic institutions.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: Lower level international affairs or political science course.

Francesca Conti		Tue Thu		10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course introduces students to the systematic study of human society from the perspective of sociology. The course begins with a presentation of classical sociological thinkers such as Marx, Durkheim and Weber and discusses sociology as a particular view on society connected to the sociological method. The course debates a series of classical topics within sociology with examples and case studies from modern day societies: deviance, class, social interaction, social stratification, marriage and family, gender, age, religion and population dynamics. Why societies have divergent norms, rules, and patterns and how do these rules form and why? The last part of the course will briefly introduce contemporary theories of modernity, post-modernity, or "liquid modernity", and will open up toward a global perspective by debating sociology's role in understanding contemporary globalization. The course fulfills information technology requirements.

This course explores the characteristics of Italian Contemporary Culture as viewed through cinema. It will focus on a selection of Italian films from World War II to the present in order to gain an overview of the dramatic economic, social and political changes in Italian society over the last 55 years. Clips from such emblematic films as The Bicycle Thief, Roma Città Aperta, la Dolce Vita, Una Giornata Particolare, Cinema Paradiso, Caro Diario, la Meglio Gioventù, L'Orchestra di Piazza Vittorio, I Cento Passi, and others will provide students with insight into topics such as fascism, the Catholic church, evolving attitudes towards women, the years of economic boom, political instability, rural poverty, the "southern" question, the mafia, and immigration both to and from Italy. Class discussions will deal with relevant aspects of Italian society and history based on the films as well as the assigned readings. Films will be shown with English subtitles.

IS 220	3.00	TRAVELS TO/THROUGH ITALY: REPRESENTATIONS OF CONTACTS BETWEEN CU
Catherine Ramsey-Portolan		Mon Wed Thu	10:35 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

The depiction of Italy as a member of the G8 and NATO, a leading provider of fashion, cinema, cars, design, and cuisine, is relatively recent, though widely held. But Italy as the seat of a highly prized way of life traces back through the centuries, with many writers declaring their admiration, from Goethe, De Stael and Stendhal, to Milton and Shakespeare. To understand Italy's contemporary image in the world, this course seeks to understand some of the earlier representations of Italy and Italians from Dante, through the Renaissance and Baroque periods, the Risorgimento, the Great Migration, the Economic Boom and la dolce vita, and down to the present time. A primary goal of the course is to connect students' experiences in Rome and Italy more generally with the experiences of other travelers and with the rich and diverse history of what being Italian is. Specific themes will include geography, the persistence of classicism in Italy to the present day, paganism and Christianity, northern Europe vs. the Mediterranean, post-Renaissance decline, rationalism vs. passion, localism vs. nationalism, civilization and the natural. Students will come to realize that, beyond the Italian state, there are many "Italies" conditioned by a variety of historical, political, economic, social, cultural, and religious circumstances.

IS 251	1.00	FOOD AND (MULTI) CULTURE IN ITALY						Field Trip (Compulsory)
Catherine Ramsey-Portolano			00:00 AM	00:00 AM		11/14/2026	11/15/2026

This 1-credit weekend field trip course presents food in its complex connections with culture, nutrition, environment, society, economics and politics. Combining traditional lectures and discussion meetings with hands-on co-curricular activities, the course will lead students to the city of Torino, a leading city in Italy for food studies and the slow food movement. The lectures and meeting with professors from the Università di Studi Enogastronomici provide a dynamic learning environment with an interdisciplinary approach while the practical assignments allow students to explore and experience first-hand food culture in different settings around Torino. All course topics are accompanied by practical activities, ranging from meetings in Eataly, the famous slow food supermarket, to food and wine pairing and tasting workshops (observations and meetings with the experts). The course will also take advantage of Torino's rich multicultural fabric by visiting the largest international market in Italy, Torino's Porta Palazzo market, where food traditions from Italy and around the world come together.
 1 credit hour. Conducted in English. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field trip.

IS 252	1.00	OLIVE OIL AND WINE CULTURALITINERARY						Field Trip (Compulsory)
			00:00 AM	00:00 AM		10/09/2026	11/09/2026

This course is a 1-credit weekend fieldtrip in central Italy, during which students will study the characteristics and classification of olive oils and wines produced in this area. The course will also provide students with an understanding of the history of oil and wine production, consumption and uses in this area, as well as current practices used today. In addition to practical "hands on" sessions, such as olive oil and wine tastings, students will also visit places of historical, social and cultural interest that will help contextualize their knowledge of topics studied within central Italy.
 1 credit. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-trip. Conducted in English.

IS 304	3.00	NATIONALISM AND REGIONALISM INMODERN ITALIAN CULTURE
Catherine Ramsey-Portolano		Tue Thu	02:05 PM	03:30 PM		08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course explores the themes of nationalism and national identity, as well as the marginalization of regional identities in modern Italian culture and society through the works of major Italian writers of the unification and post-unification periods. The course will examine how nationalist discourse mobilized racial, cultural and linguistic boundaries as determinants of nationhood, paving the way for the later emergence of Fascism's cultural nationalism.
 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 102. Conducted in English.

IS 308	3.00	ITALIAN FASHION GOES TO HOLLYWOOD
Bruno Montefusco		Mon Wed	10:35 AM	12:00 PM		08/31/2026	12/11/2026

The course offers an in-depth analysis of the fields of Italian fashion and cinema through the connections that have characterized the most important Made in Italy designers with Hollywood. The bridge between Italian fashion and American cinema began in the early 1900's with Salvatore Ferragamo and continues successfully to this day. This course will study the contributions to American cinematic productions of various Italian designers, whose costumes have constructed a visual language capable of expressing the relevance of the Italian fashion industry within the collective imagination. Through a multidisciplinary approach, the course touches on fields such as history, sociology and semiotics in its analysis of American cinema and Italian fashion as an inseparable pair that has indelibly marked contemporary culture.
 3 credits. Pre-requisites: ENG 102. Conducted in English.

IS 312		3.00 CULTURAL REVOLUTIONS IN RENAISSANCEAND BAROQUE ROME
Julia Hairston	Wed	09:00 AM	12:00 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course focuses on the cultural revolutions that took place in Europe from the fourteenth to the seventeenth centuries as lived and experienced in Rome. These radical changes regarded the production and dissemination of knowledge, the practice of religion and its relation to science, how to represent the self, gender roles and the civilizing process, and political systems. We will alternate in-class readings, discussions, and student presentations with site visits throughout the city that will highlight the themes we discuss in class. Readings cover authors such as Francesco Petrarca, Cola di Rienzo, the anonymous Pasquino poet, Michelangelo Buonarroti, Vittoria Colonna, Benvenuto Cellini, Baldassare Castiglione, Artemisia Gentileschi, and Galileo Galilei, whereas our site visits may include the Capitoline, the Angelica Library, some of Rome's talking statues, Tor de' Specchi, Villa Farnesina, Spada Gallery, Castel Sant'Angelo, Santa Maria sopra Minerva, and Bosco Parrasio, among others. 3 credits. Pre-requisites: ENG 102. Students are responsible for all entry fees. Conducted in English.

IS 320	3.00 ITALIAN MEDIA AND POPULAR CULTURE
Andrea Bini	Mon	Wed	03:40 PM	05:05 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course has a thematic approach, applying the analytical theories of cultural studies to contemporary Italian media and popular culture, focusing on: the evolution of Italian print and broadcast media in terms of their impact on Italian culture and society; the effect of Italy's regional character on sports, use of language, gastronomic traditions; the role of folktales, popular theatre and folk music; popular expressions of religious life (Carnival, Passion Plays etc); the relationship between local craftsmanship and high fashion. Students will apply and develop their analytical skills by actively engaging with these phenomena through field trips, case-studies and example texts. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 102. Conducted in English.

Marcella Allamprese		Mon Tue Wed Thu	03:40 PM	04:35 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

In this course students establish an introductory base in the Italian language in the four areas of language skills: listening comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing. At the successful completion of this course students will be able to demonstrate proficiency in everyday spoken Italian by performing the following functions: greet people and introduce themselves, give and follow simple directions, respond to and ask questions, describe their families and friends, order items in a café, discuss their life at school and hobbies, express likes and dislikes, and recount recent past actions. Students will be able to read simple written texts in Italian and write short paragraphs on familiar topics. Students will also have gained specific knowledge about contemporary Italy through cultural readings on topics such as family life, pastimes, and food and wine culture.

4 credit hours. No placement examination. Required for AUR degree students.

Open to students who have completed the equivalent of one year of college Italian, and taken the appropriate placement examination. This course is designed to improve Italian language skills at the intermediary level through an exploration of contemporary Italian film. This course is therefore designed to develop competency not only in grammatical structures but also strengthen listening and speaking skills and expand vocabulary acquisition. By watching and discussing clips from contemporary Italian movies, students will analyze idiomatic expressions, lexicon, grammatical structures, spoken and non-verbal elements of language and Italian culture in order to gain linguistic competence and familiarize themselves with various aspects of contemporary Italian society.

3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL 102 or permission of the instructor. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 207	3.00	INTERMEDIATE ITALIAN I: WORKING INITIALIAN
Luciana D'Arcangeli		Tue Thu		02:05 PM	03:30 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

Open to students who have completed the equivalent of one year of college Italian or taken the appropriate placement examination. This course is designed to improve Italian language skills at the low intermediate level through an exploration of linguistic structures and vocabulary focused on the Italian working environment. This course is therefore designed to develop competency not only in grammatical structures but also strengthen listening and speaking skills and expand vocabulary acquisition. While the course covers the standard Italian language skills of a mid-intermediate level course, it features specific grammar and vocabulary relevant to the professional context, such as formal address, common business phrases, and specialized terminology. The course is useful for students who are aiming at being placed in an Italian office for an internship and who are interested in working in Italy in the future. Attention is also given to Italian office culture, manners, and customs as they relate to business practice. 3 credits. Pre-requisites: ITL 102 or placement examination. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 251	3.00	INTERMEDIATE ITALIAN II: ITALIANLANGUAGE IN THE MEDIA
Francesca Magnoni		Tue Thu		02:05 PM	03:30 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

Open to students who have completed the equivalent of three semesters of college Italian or have taken the appropriate placement test. This language course is designed to reinforce and enhance students' previous knowledge of the Italian language by working on the primary language skills (i.e. listening, reading, writing, speaking) at the intermediate level as well as on integrated skills, such as public speaking and discussing points of view in Italian. Traditional and digital media will serve as cultural frameworks through which Italian grammar and syntax topics will be taught. The course will focus on contemporary topics in Italy and the language used to discuss them across traditional media (TV, radio, newspapers, advertising), as well as contemporary digital platforms. The authentic Italian audio/visual material—including clips, trailers, and short videos—will support a dual aim: strengthening language proficiency and deepening understanding of Italian culture. 3 credits. Pre-requisites: ITL 200 or placement examination. Conducted in Italian.

ITL 300	3.00	ADVANCED ITALIAN: GRAMMAR AND COMPOSITION

Open to students who have completed the equivalent of two years of college Italian, and taken the appropriate placement examination. Grammatical, syntactical, and lexical items covered in this course expand an intermediate level of proficiency to the first advanced level through extensive reading assignments, grammatical and syntactical reviews and practice, and both spontaneous and reflective writing assignments, on such practical and abstract topics as reviews of films and plays, mass-media information, and cultural events. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ITL250 (Intermediate Italian II, equivalent to four semesters of ITL language), or placement examination. Conducted in Italian.

Vincenzo Pinto		Mon Wed	12:30 PM	01:55 PM	08/31/2026	12/11/2026

This course is an introduction to astronomical phenomena in the Universe for non-science majors. The course covers four main topics: (1) motions in the sky, (2) the solar system, (3) stars (why they shine, and how they evolve), and (4) first steps in cosmology (what are galaxies and how they are distributed in space). The basic physics required to understand astronomy will be presented. Topics of current interest will also be touched upon, such as astronomical discoveries (ground-based, mission), and whether there is life on other planets. We will also become acquainted with the night sky, through naked eye observations, and a field trip to a nearby amateur observatory.
3 credit hours. Students are responsible for all entry fees.

This course introduces first-year students in their first or second semester to liberal arts education as envisioned by the mission of the American University of Rome. Students will explore the theme of Rome from a variety of disciplinary perspectives and methodologies, under the tutelage of several professors from different undergraduate programs. Explorations encourage students to see Rome as their classroom, to appreciate the diversity of the AUR education, and to connect with the AUR and the city of Rome. One class meeting per week will be devoted to a shared content experience (lecture, fieldtrip etc.); for the second, students will meet in smaller groups for a seminar-style class based on assigned topics and readings led by one of the co-instructors. Field trips or public lectures will take the place of regular lectures at several points in the semester; these meetings are also required. The semester will culminate in a public demonstration of student work, in the form of a poster session, paper presentation, or other public format.
3 credit hours. There will be at least 2 required field trips during the semester. Because FYS 101 is required of all AUR students, there are no additional entry fees required.
